

PROJECT CAMELOT'S BILL RYAN
AFFIRMS ANDY'S DATA AS TRUE

Hi, All,

This is an opportunity to answer a question I often get e-mails about.

Kerry and I were in touch with Andy Basiago before he went public last year. We've never actually met him in person, but we're very familiar with his story and have spoken with him in-depth quite a number of times.

I'd certainly like to interview him. Because of logistics (he lives in Seattle), it'd probably be an in-depth audio interview.

He first contacted Camelot back in February 2008 saying that he knew from his own experience that our website was closer to the truth than any other he'd seen.

That got our attention, and on 25 Feb 2008 I spoke with him on the phone for four hours straight. I believe I was one of the first people he debriefed his whole story to. I was captivated. Much of it rang true and totally correlated with what we had learned from Henry Deacon (real name Arthur Neumann).

It was not recorded – at the time, Andy wanted to be off-record – but it would have made for a quite wonderful interview.

Laura Eisenhower I've never spoken with and know nothing about beyond what I've read on others' websites.

I have corresponded with Michael Relfe (The Mars Records) but he declines to be interviewed by anyone. His story rings true to me as well. I understand the Scientology-based techniques that his wife Stephanie used to help him recover his memories...

I'm sure that there is extremely important reality at the core of these personal accounts.

All best wishes, Bill
